Program will boost business

Haliburton County entrepreneurs will have a new source of assistance and funding soon. It was announced earlier this week that the area has been accepted for assistance under the Local Employment Assistance and Development Program (LEAD) sponsored by the federal government through Employment and Immigration Canada.

The acceptance followed the presentation of a detailed application which was prepared by a special committee established by the Chamber of Commerce.

Under the LEAD program, up to $100,000 will be allocated for the establishing of aims and objectives of the program. This process is expected to take between six and twelve months. During this period a special committee assisted by a manager, will ascertain how the federal funds can best be applied in the county to increase the employment opportunities.

Under the terms of the program, the committee can study a number of options. It could suggest the local LEAD corporation enter into loan agreements with new or existing businesses who are experiencing problems raising capital elsewhere, fund infrastructure projects or planning projects. While the non-profit corporation could become involved in all three areas, it is expected that one will receive the greatest emphasis.

Once the committee has established its priority, the federal government will provide the corporation with seed funding of $220,000 each year to fund acceptable projects within its area of jurisdiction. The local corporation will also receive an operational grant of up to $130,000 per year to cover administrative costs and technical assistance to local businesses. This funding is limited to five years, after which it is expected the corporation will be generating enough income on its own to continue operation.

The LEAD corporation will be run by a board of directors with a member being chosen from each municipality and five members selected at large. Each will be trained by the federal government on how the corporation is expected to operate.

The local corporation will also hire a professional manager and staff assistant to help in its operation.

According to the information provided with the press release, the program is designed to stimulate permanent employment opportunities in the area. It is noted that hiring for the projects must be done through the Canada Manpower offices, that wages cannot exceed those normally paid in the area and that projects cannot represent unfair competition to existing businesses. The program is seeking projects which would provide long-term employment in areas that would be compatible with the community's development plan.

An application to be included in the LEAD program had been made two years ago, but it was turned down.

Chamber of Commerce manager Emily Skinner worked with a committee of seven others from the community to draft the latest application which has been approved. Among those on the committee were Stuart Brandon, George Schmid, Rhonda Elstone, Curtis Eastmure, Walter Thomas, Dennis Casey and Gary Kenney.

Work on preparing the extensive application began last summer and continued until November when the application was submitted. The Chamber manager noted in the press release that the work required for the application reduced the time she could spend on regular Chamber business, such as member visitation.

Members of County Council will hear a report on the program today (January 16) when Gary Dedauw of the federal agency will be on hand to explain what is involved and how communities can take advantage of the program.

Moments after leaving the starting chute, Joe Bawden, guides his team down the Main Street of Minden Saturday. Bawden, of Stroud, Ontario, placed fifth overall during the two day dog sled derby which attracted over fifty teams from three states and two provinces. During the two days of racing, spectators lined the barricades to watch the highly trained teams and drivers compete for $1200 in prize money. For more details on the weekend's activities, see the story below and pictures on pages 5 and 6.

Dogs take over Main Street

Dog sled fever swept Minden this past weekend as over 50 racing teams arrived in the community for the first annual Haliburton Highlands Dog Sled Derby. According to the organizers of the event, Steve and Val Loughheed, the two days proved to be an unqualified success. These sentiments were repeated by participants and spectators alike.

A number of the racers commented that they felt the community had done an excellent job in organizing the races, especially, considering this was the first time such a race had been held in Minden. They were particularly enthusiastic about the warm and friendly welcome accorded to the participants.

It was hard for area residents not to extend a friendly welcome to the visitors. The racing action, which started and ended on the Main Street, provided an exciting spectacle that kept spectators pressed against the barriers to catch a glimpse of the action. Between the events, most racers welcomed the interest and attention accorded their sport and their dogs as the spectators strolled through the parking and team preparation area.

The number of dog teams in attendance exceeded the estimation of the organizers, as many participants decided at the last minute to take part in the event. In all, some 35 different mushers were in the village over the weekend. 26 teams competed in the eight dog competition while an equal number took part in the four dog races. Since the same dogs do not compete in both races, it was estimated that the community's canine population, counting a few spares and puppies, jumped by over 325.

Not only were the organizers pleased with the response from the racers, but many members of the community stepped forward to assist with the operation of the event. Volunteers were on hand to help with

Kanawa president outlines future of canoe collection

Construction of the Kanawa International Museum facility in Haliburton County could begin as early as the spring of 1986 according to Robert Dunn, the president of the board of directors of the museum.

Dunn made his prediction during a meeting held at the Dysart et al municipal council chambers on Thursday, January 10.

Attending the meeting were members of the Dysart et al council, Ken Langdon, President of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, members of the Haliburton County Historical Society, members of the board of the Haliburton County Museum and Charles Pascal, President of Sir Sandford Fleming College.

Dunn told the meeting that the board of the Kanawa International Museum had decided to construct new facilities for the collection of watercraft artifacts because the current museum located in Stanhope Township "is simply inadequate for a collection of such importance and value."

Nine interest groups had approached the board with proposals for a new site, Dunn said, before a final decision was made. "The board," Dunn said, "had a difficult time deciding on a new location because no single proposal answered all their needs."

The board therefore decided to divide the collection between Port Hope and Haliburton.

The Port Hope site was chosen because it is situated near the busiest intersection on the highway 401 corridor and because of its proximity to Toronto and other urban centres.

Dunn noted that studies conducted in the United States have shown that a museum must be located within a one hour drive from a major urban centre in order to be successful.

However, the Port Hope site "does not lend itself to recreation and the active, hands on concept" envisaged by the board, Dunn said. The board therefore decided to construct a second facility in the village of Haliburton because Haliburton County "owes much of its develop-

Mixed reaction to livestock protection resolution

A resolution calling for changes in legislation to allow livestock and poultry producers to shoot dogs which are not under proper control and are found upon the premises of the producers has received support from the Stanhope Municipal Council but was rejected by the Council of the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden.

The resolution, which was circulated to all Counties and Townships in the Province of Ontario requesting support, was passed by the Township of Adjala in Simcoe County after a local sheep producer was convicted under a section of the Criminal Code of Canada for having killed a stray dog on his property that was worrying his sheep.

(The Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary defines worrying as "to harass by tearing, biting, or snapping esp. at the throat").

An appeal of the County Court conviction was dismissed by a judge who described the incident as a borderline case because "the dog was shot while in the act of leaving the farmer's field." The judge also stated that the subsection of the Dog Licencing and Livestock Act relevant to the case "suffers from lack of qualification".

Noting that the Act was intended to provide protection to farmers from charges under the Criminal Code the resolution petitions the Province of Ontario "to enact appropriate legislation which will ensure that livestock and poultry producers are allowed to shoot, without harassment and without being subject to prosecution, dogs which are not under proper control and found upon the premises of the producers".

After the resolution was tabled at the Stanhope Council meeting on Wednesday, January 9, Councillor Elvin Johnson expressed his personal support of the resolution.

He described the damage that dogs have done to sheep and suggested, "If you have seen sheep that have been worried by dogs, you would agree with the resolution".

Councillor Dale MacDonald also expressed support of the resolution but qualified his stand by noting that he would not approve shooting properly licenced hounds that were crossing farm property while chasing deer during hunting season.

Councillor Johnson responded that hunting dogs were not as liable to attack farm animals as other dogs.

Several councillors expressed surprise that farmers could be charged, noting that it was generally accepted that farmers had a legal right to shoot dogs that were harassing farm animals or poultry.

Council passed a motion unanimously supporting the resolution.

The resolution received a different reaction from Anson, Hindon and Minden Council on Thursday.

Councillor Pat Burk initially supported the resolution then withdrew her support stating that her stand was too strong if a dog was only worrying farm animals.

Councillor Gary Kenney opposed the resolution arguing that farmers should not have the option to shoot dogs that were harassing livestock. Bylaw Enforcement Officer Dick Schell told Council that under legislation a farmer can shoot a dog that kills livestock or poultry, adding that if the legislation was changed to conform with a proposal outlined in the resolution, a farmer could possibly shoot a dog that was only crossing the farmer's property.

Reeve Lyle McKnight agreed, adding that a dog that is usually tied could get loose accidentally and wander onto a farm. Council agreed that the present legislation offered adequate protection.

The Ontario Sheep Association has conveyed the concerns of sheep producers regarding the present legislation to Dennis Timbrell, the Minister of Agriculture and Food and has been informed that the Act is currently under review by the Ministry.

New position created

In an effort the streamline operations, council has appointed a Community Service Coordinator for the Townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden.

Brian Sisson was appointed to the newly created position at the regular council meeting on January 10. Sisson has worked for the municipality as head of the Parks Department and was the Arena Manager.

He will be responsible for all purchasing in the municipality and will coordinate equipment between the various municipal departments.

Sisson will also sit on the Roads Committee with Reeve Lyle McKnight, Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas and the Road Superintendent, Earl Kent.

The coordinator will also deal with all complaints received by the municipality. He will either refer the complaints to a committee, notify the appropriate department or deal directly with the problem.

The duties that the coordinator will assume are similar to those carried out by clerk-administrators in other municipalities but there will be more emphasis on field work.

Former county clerk honoured at banquet

Members of County Council, staff, family and friends of Wynn Lahay Newbery, gathered at a special banquet Friday evening at the Minden Community Centre to pay tribute to the former clerk-treasurer of Haliburton County. Wynn retired from the post at the end of the year.

The evening was filled with praise for the retired clerk's efforts on behalf of the county and the community. Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve, Lyle McKnight, served as master of ceremonies. He noted that he was the last Warden of the County to serve a full term with Wynn. He described it as being a n enjoyable year and noted, "The clerk is the one who gives you the answers and a 'kick in the pants' when you need it."

McKnight presented the guest of honour with a plaque from the Minister of Municipal Affairs, Claude Bennett, mentioning her service to the county. Telegrams of congratulations were also read from Ontario Premier William Davis, MPP John Eakins, MP Bill Scott, the Minister of Transportation and Communications, James Snow, Minister of Industry, Frank Miller, former Warden Malcolm McGillivray, and other friends.

As well, a number of past wardens who had worked with Wynn were in attendance. Each added his personal insight into the job she had done for the county. Among the speakers were Roy Windover, Jerry Howarth, Bob Vick, Jim Harrison, Murray Fearrey, Ron Gambell and Bill Howe.

The present county warden, Sherbourne et al Reeve Dalton McDonald, noted that he was the last to be sworn in by the former clerk. He paid tribute to her fourteen years of service to the county and presented her with a gift of luggage. Wynn and her husband Reg are planning a trip later this year to England.

Responding to the accolades, Wynn thanked everyone for his or her comments. The celebration had been a surprise for the guest of honour. "I was excited and delighted to see all you people here," she commented, and then with a twinkle in her eye, added, "Imagine, all these people giving up 'Dallas' for me."

The crowd responded by giving her a standing ovation.

A program worth watching

There was good news for businessmen in Haliburton County this week when the federal government endorsed an application to include this area in the Local Employment Assistance and Development (LEAD) program. Under the terms of the program, there should be an additional $220,000 available to entrepreneurs who wish to expand or begin a new venture.

The support for new enterprise has greatest appeal for us. Often, highly motivated individuals (especially those who are young) are thwarted in their efforts to start a new enterprise by a system that does not or cannot place a value on desire and innovation. It is our understanding that under this program, individuals with a feasible idea but lacking in the financial resources, could receive the help they need to get their project underway.

This sort of assistance has long been lacking in this county, with the result that many good ideas and enterprises have been lost.

While we are not totally familiar with all aspects of the program and admit that more information may correct this impression, we can't help but feel the funds offered for the planning stage of the program, ($100,000) and the annual allotment for administrative costs, ($130,000) are somewhat excessive. We wonder if a portion of these amounts might not be better spent in funding ventures than in providing the program's infrastructure.

We will continue to watch the program develop.

Medical use of heroin

- by John Eakins, MPP -

I thought this would be a good opportunity to discuss a different subject, but one which many people are interested and are beginning to discuss and ask questions.

There are many points to consider both for and against the medical use of heroin for terminally ill people. I would like to deal with this in a three-part series, and following this, I would be pleased to have comment from anyone wishing to express themselves.

Part 1 - Background to the Debate, and Arguments Supporting the Use of Heroin

The medical use of heroin in Canada was banned in 1955 (under the federal Narcotic Control Act), in response to the World Health Organization's recommendation that the world's nations prohibit the production, import and use of the drug. This recommendation was made in light of the increasing abuse of heroin as a street drug, and was intended to limit the availability of the drug for non-medical purposes.

The issue of whether or not heroin should be used as an analgesic (painkiller) in Canada was dormant following the 1955 decision. Recent advances in medical technology which have permitted the extension of the lives of terminally ill cancer patients have brought the problem of intractable pain more visibly to the public's

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

Any time now, we'll endure an extreme cold snap - one of those -30 degrees C freezers when the snow crunches beneath your foot, and the air stabs at your throat. How, you wonder, can wild-life survive such harshness?

More than a matter of idle speculation, such extremes define our forest and wild-life populations. They decide which wildflowers we'll see and what trees will comprise our forests. Those which aren't adapted are quickly 'wiped' from the landscape. Those adapted, through either body or behaviour, survive and flourish.

To the birds and mammals out there, bodies are sophisticated engines. They drive on fuel - food. And, they need enough fuel both to keep the machine warm and to keep it working. Periods of extreme cold are precisely when they need the most fuel - to balance rapid heat loss to the cold environment, and to keep the body moving through snow and ice, to feed. Without enough fuel to balance these needs, the machine stops and the animal dies.

The adaptations which make our survivors successful are fascinating. Some, of course, go south for the winter and avoid it all. Others hibernate, in the "warm" mud of lake bottoms or beneath the frost line, slow down their body metabolism and simply live off their (hopefully adequate) fat reserves. Many moles and mice survive - even thrive - beneath snow's insulating blanket. Under the snow, it may be a balmy 0 degrees C.

But the adaptations of those which stay above the snow are the most interesting.

A porcupine, unable to devote the huge quantities of energy necessary to move around in snow, simply picks out a favourite hemlock, larch or pine which will serve as the entire winter's larder. Up it goes, to spend the winter munching its way from branch to branch, huddled to keep warm.

Most birds aren't nearly as active as they were in 'balmy' December. Cardinals, sparrows, chickadees and even grosbeaks spend much of the time fluffed up in conifers or other sheltered locations. They move around only when actively searching for food. Woodpeckers, goldfinches and all seed-eaters will use feeders heavily during these periods.

Deer 'yard up' in areas of second-growth forest, with dense shrubbery, saplings and sucker-growth provide maximum food availability with minimum movement. As many as 200, or more, deer congregated into a small area have a second,

May I take this opportunity to congratulate all those involved with the first annual Haliburton Highlands Dog Sled Derby.

New ideas, involving spectator events, is a very necessary part of our endeavour, as a community, to attract new visitors to our area.

The time and effort spent by the organizers, our elected officials, our roads department, and all the other countless volunteers resulted in what I feel was a very successful two day event.

Many people possibly would never have thought that many parts of our great country was opened up as a result of winter transportation, provided by dog teams. My father for one, Nick Kulas, travelled from Kirkland Lake to Rouyn, Quebec by dog team in the winter of 1924, with a prospecting crew headed by the Gamble Bros. Needless to say, endeavours such as theirs, resulted in the opening of several mines, one notable one, being one of the world's largest copper producer, Noranda Mines.

Again, to all those involved, a job well done.

Bill Kulas,

The plans for the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association snowmobile Snocross are in place and ready to go on the Saturday of the Minden Kinsmen Winter Carnival weekend.

The race committee has worked long and hard to provide the community with an excellent race program, and they now have a $1500 grand prize purse to offer to the many competitors expected to arrive from the United States and Canada. Race day activities will include an opportunity for young people (14 to 17 years) to race Snowcross on snowmobiles provided by Prentice-Berry Ltd. and Bombardier Ski-Doo for a minimal fee of $6.00 per entry. This activity is expected to draw as many as 100 competitors from the surrounding area. Please note the junior Snocross requires a waiver signed by parents or guardian and pre-registration at Prentice-Berry Ltd. in Minden.

We are hoping that this will be a successful activity for HCSA, since all proceeds are going to the snowmobile trail grooming efforts. Silkolene Lubricants and Bombardier Ski-Doo are the major sponsors of the event. Inquiries regarding race day activities should be directed to 705-286-2750 or 705-286-2946. For long distance inquiries call 416-549-1370.

Charges laid after fracas

A disturbance among several persons both inside and outside a residence in Eagle Lake has resulted in charges being laid against two Oshawa persons.

An Eagle Lake resident was assaulted and a parked car, owned by a Lochlin resident, received $800 damage during the fracas.

Charged with assault causing bodily harm is Timothy Robinson, 18 while Linda Robinson, 37, was charged with Mischief.

The matter was investigated by Constable Brian Dunham.

Snowmobiles

Some disturbing statistics were received concerning snowmobile accidents in Ontario over the 1983-1984 winter season. Accidents increased 61.5% over the preceding year and fatalities more than doubled, rising from 11 to 24. Obviously snow conditions were much better for snowmobiling in that season but still the death and injury totals seem terribly high.

Of the 22 drivers who died, 15 had been drinking to some extent. In addition, another 6 drivers drowned. All had been drinking.

Revised law

Motor vehicles are now required to be driven with headlights turned on for longer periods. The Highway Traffic Act was recently amended and now requires headlights at any time between one half hour before sunset to one half hour after sunrise. On this day (January 14), lights would be required (approximately) between 4:30 in the afternoon until 8:20 the next morning.

Vehicle lights must also be used when, due to atmospheric conditions or insufficient light, vehicles or persons are not clearly discernible at a distance of 150 metres or less.

equally important, effect; they trample the snow and develop good trails. Anyone trying to walk through the deep snow of Ontario's bush soon realizes how much energy can be saved for heat if it doesn't have to be spent floundering through snow.

This equation, of finding enough food energy to balance that needed to move and stay warm, is often finely balanced. A slight reduction in food or increase in energy consumption - either to keep warm through a frigid night or for a deer to flee a dog - can tip the balance.

Such frigid weather plays an important role in defining the boundaries of individual plant and animal species, and of whole forest types. The 'belt' along the north shore of Lake Erie, for example, is moderated by the Great Lakes. It doesn't get the extreme cold, and as a result a wide variety of 'exotic' species live there - opossum, tulip and Kentucky coffee tree, prickly pear cactus, red-bellied woodpeckers and flowering dogwood to name but a few.

Such "coldest periods", coupled with other factors like snowfall, help define the edge between mixed and spruce forest, and the northern edge for a host of birds, reptiles and mammals. In the absence of one species, another thrives.

Even though her harshest face, nature keeps our countryside vibrant and varied.

registration, traffic, trail maintenance and crowd control, timing and general organization. Included in those helping were the two Katimavik groups currently living in Minden.

Spectators enjoyed two days of racing. Saturday and Sunday both the eight and four dog classes were run. The teams' time from the two days was used to determine the final placing. A special treat Saturday afternoon saw the racers of the future take to the street in a kid and mutt race. Some of the youngsters, barely able to peer over the handle, raced the length of the Main Street to the delight of the crowd.

The main events covered trails which started on the Main Street, went north on the Bobcaygeon Road, circled the arena and travelled west on the Kernohan Road to the respective turn-around points. The trails off the Main Street were groomed by the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association.

The two days of racing concluded with the presentation of the cash awards, totalling $1200, and the trophies to the successful teams. Prizes of dog food, a valuable commodity when one has upwards of 20 dogs to feed daily, were distributed to the participants as well.

The top three racers took home trophies to mark their win. A giant cup, donated by the Dominion Hotel, on which the names of the top finishers in the eight and four dog classes will be inscribed, was also on display.

Ice racing season begins

Car racing on ice returns to Minden this weekend as the first set of races are scheduled for Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

The cars will be racing on a specially constructed iced track at the Minden fairgrounds. Tom Prentice, a local ice racing enthusiast, has been watering the track regularly over the past few weeks and reports that the cold weather has helped to ensure the facility is in top shape.

The local ice racing fraternity has increased in number this year. Three members of the Prentice family will be entering cars for the circuit. Tom Prentice Sr., and his two sons, Tom and Jack will be fielding cars. Other local entrants include Murray King of Kinmount, Keith Thomas of Carnarvon and John Dutschek, a resident of Oshawa, who is a member of the local club.

Spectators are invited to take in the racing activity. There is no charge for admission to the grounds. Races will begin Saturday at noon and Sunday at 1 p.m.

The second race of the season will be held the following weekend in conjunction with the Kinsmen Winter Carnival.

Sidewalks and dog tags

The condition of a municipal sidewalk and the recent increase in license fees for dogs in the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden has come under criticism from a Minden couple.

Earl and Emma Hewitt attended the Thursday meeting of council to protest the increase in licensing fees from $5 to $10 and the condition of the pathway between Coneybeare's Butcher Shop and the Bowes and Cocks office.

Mr. Hewitt told council that there were deep snow drifts on the sidewalk that should have been cleared by the municipal road crew. "The sidewalk is not being kept clean," he said, adding, "If the council is spending money on the pathway in the summer (to install the interlocking paving stones) why not in the winter?"

Reeve Lyle McKnight assured Mr. Hewitt that the municipality would attend to the problem immediately.

Mr. Hewitt then turned council's attention to the license fee increase. Noting that he had read a newspaper report that the wage increases for municipal employees had averaged about 5%, he asked council if the municipality was holding all increases at that figure. After receiving an affirmative answer, Mr. Hewitt asked, "Then why have the dog tags gone up 100%? Are you trying to get into city rates?"

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas noted that the increase was made because the tags and licence forms cost the municipality approximately $8.

Bylaw Enforcement Officer, Dick Schell, told Mr. Hewitt that the council had tried to be fair by charging the same for all dogs rather than charging more for females than males and predicted that other area municipalities would soon be raising the licence fees.

Mrs. Hewitt told council that the fee increase was hard on senior citizens. "The senior citizens are not getting a double salary like you are," she said, adding, "I don't think it is one bit fair."

Reeve Lyle McKnight responded, "If I had a dog, I think it would be worth $10 to me."

Noting that the previous increase in the licence fee was made in 1978, McKnight said, "Sometimes municipal councils leave these fees for too long. Instead of increasing them bit by bit, they make a large increase."

Mr. Hewitt then asked, "Where do you get the authority to raise the tags 100%?" He added, "I might just investigate this a bit further."

Councillor Gary Kenney told Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt that council had gone along with the increase to make up for the costs to the municipality of dog control.

Dick Schell pointed out that the municipality has to pay for dog control and the damages to livestock or poultry caused by stray dogs and that council felt these expenses should come from the revenue from the sale of tags.

Juveniles end season with 20 - 2 record

The Minden Juveniles have completed their regular season schedule with an impressive 20-2 win/loss record.

The Juveniles suffered their second loss of the season at the hands of Ops January 6 at the Ops Centre losing the game 3-0 - their only shutout.

On Tuesday, January 8, Minden won the return match at home defeating the visitors 4-2.

Friday, Minden travelled to Beaverton and returned home with a 6-2 victory in a game that was called in the second period. The game was ended by a member of the executive of the OMHA following a request by coach Jerry Campbell and Manager Bob Wells.

The referee had sent both teams to the dressing room with 3:47 left in the second period.

He took the action when skirmishes broke out on the ice between opposing players while Bob Wells was attending to a Minden player who was lying on the ice after being speared. The referee was also struck by a fan.

Because of the volatile situation, the game was called and Minden was awarded the 6-2 win.

Minden ended their season on a winning note shutting out Manvers 4-0 on Sunday in Manvers. This coming weekend Minden will be taking part in a Juvenile Tournament in Fenelon Falls.

On Friday, January 25, Minden will host Fenelon Falls at the Minden Arena in an exhibition game. It should prove to be an exciting contest.

The two teams have met once during the regular schedule and once during the Minden Juvenile tournament and Fenelon has won both games by a single point.

The first game of the playoffs will take place in Minden on Sunday January 27 between Minden and Little Britain.

Honour deadline extended

The Honourable Susan Fish, Minister of Citizenship and Culture has extended the nomination deadline for Volunteer Service Award Pins. Organizations active in cultural and multicultural areas now have until February 28 to nominate members for their volunteer time. Original deadline was December 31, 1984.

"My ministry has received over 200 applications and hundreds of inquiries concerning the program," Ms. Fish said. "The feedback has been very positive and we would like everyone working in the arts, libraries, information centres, heritage, multicultturalism and citizenship, newcomer services and the Native community to look into their communities and nominate deserving volunteers."

The minister announced the Volunteer Service Award Pins in the fall of 1984 as part of an initiative to recognize the very important work of volunteers in Ontario.

"Being a volunteer is a natural extension of being a good neighbour," Ms. Fish said. "I have always thought of Ontario as a place of good neighbours with communities of neighbours rich in feelings of unity and common purpose. Volunteers are an integral part of this neighbour-help-neighbour situation."

The Volunteer Service Award Pins will be awarded in recognition of five, ten or fifteen years of continuous service. Community organizations are responsible for nominating members for each degree of service pins. Each year an organization may nominate up to six individuals.

Successful candidates will be awarded a commemorative pin in early spring and during volunteer week, April 14 - 20. Nomination forms are available now by writing or calling: Ms. Marilyn Branch, Co-ordinator, Volunteer Awards Programs, Ministry of Citizenship and Culture, 5th Floor, 77 Bloor Street West, Toronto, Ontario. M7A 2R9. (416) 965-7505.

The 'Blowers, who have not lost a game all season, skated to a 12-3 victory to maintain their hold on first place in the Minden Men's Recreational Hockey League. In the second game played on Monday, Vasey's Real Estate defeated Hall's Insurance 7-3. It was the team's second victory in a row. On Thursday night Vasey's defeated The Times 11-1.

Steve takes second at Kawartha race

Steven Stewart of Minden raced to a second place finish in the Pro Snocross event at the Dayco Kawartha International in Peterborough on Sunday. It was the second race of the season for the Prentice-Berry Racing Team.

On January 6 Stewart placed sixth in the Pro Snocross at the Dayco Georgian Cup in Owen Sound. Stewart said that the first competition of the season was a "test weekend for most of the drivers."

During the event, the Prentice-Berry team made a number of modifications to the suspension to lower the centre of gravity of the 465 cc Skidoo and changed ice studs to improve handling and acceleration.

The team was able to test the results of the modifications at the race in Peterborough.

On Saturday Stewart placed second in the first heat but dropped to fifth place finish in the final after losing a plug lead. On Sunday Stewart placed third in his heat then crossed the line in second place in the final.

The final Snocross was run twice.

The first running of the race was called by the officials after the leaders crashed into each other on the final lap. Stewart was running third at the time. He passed the leaders and was about to cross the finish line when the race was called.

Under the rules drivers who have been involved in an accident must restart the race at the back of the pack. However, this was not the case on Sunday as the two former leaders started in the front row for the second running of the final. Stewart was able to get past one of the leaders on the narrow, twisting track, to place second.

President outlines museum plans

ment to canoeing", Dunn said, and because the Glebe Park site would be ideal for staging canoe related activities.

Dunn added that the board agreed to co-operate with the Haliburton County Historical Society to build the museum at the Glebe Park site because of "the sincere interest shown by the society" and the board of the Haliburton County Museum and because of the strong community support which was not evident in other centres.

The larger portion of the museum's collection of 1500 artifacts will be on display at the 70,000 sq. ft. museum in Port Hope. This will include most of the 650 watercraft from regions all over the world.

The museum at Glebe Park is expected to occupy 16,000 sq. ft. but may be expanded if funds are available. 5000 sq. ft. have been set aside for a display area, another 5,000 sq. ft. will be used for storage and the remaining 6,000 sq. ft. will be an amphitheatre.

Dunn said that the Haliburton collection will be predominately made up of artifacts from the north eastern region of North America, adding "there are a number of artifacts that fit into this local area. The museum intends to become the much needed focal point in the canoeing world," Dunn said, adding that the museum board is emphasizing a "tourism thrust rather than a static museum".

Dunn noted that some of the members of the board have been involved with the Canada Canoe Festival in past years and that similar events could be held in Haliburton County. Other projects which are being considered for this area are canoe regattas, white water racing, canoe building courses, educational programs and research.

According to Dunn, the Ontario Ministry of Tourism, several large corporations, the federal Ministry of Northern Affairs, four Ontario universities and Sir Sandford Fleming College have shown a very strong interest in the museum project. As well, the museum has been asked to participate in Expo '86 in Vancouver.

To promote interest and membership in the museum, tours of Ontario, the Maritimes and the western provinces are being planned for this summer. Dunn emphasised that participation in community events, the cross country tour and participation in Expo '86 is necessary to raise funds from both private and government sectors.

When asked how the funds will be allocated and how many members of the museum board would be from the Haliburton area, Dunn responded that "the dollar allocation will be based on needs" adding, "I expect the draw on funds will be heavier in Haliburton initially, than Port Hope." Dunn said he expects that one person from the Haliburton area will serve on the board initially and that perhaps more members will be added if the board expands in the future.

Larry Podmore, a member of the Haliburton County Museum Board told the meeting that it should be pointed out that the building will be owned by the Kanawa International Museum not by the Municipality of Dysart et al.

Taxpayers will object to an increase in the mill rate to finance the construction of the facility, Podmore said, adding, "if we are to get local support we must emphasise this." Reeve Murray Fearrey responded, stating it would be "premature to say that it will or will not be a public building" because the museum will be built on municipal property.

When it was suggested that the new museum would not be open to the public until 1987, Dunn responded, "That is possible, but it could be sooner. It will depend on the architect and the planners," he said, adding "it is possible that things may get going in the summer of 1986."

Dunn concluded his address by emphasising that the regional museum concept and the promotion of canoe related activities and tourism is a new model for contemporary museums.

Reunion

The 25th Anniversary Reunion of Rideau District High School in Elgin, Ontario, is planned for May 17, 18 and 19, 1985. All former students and staff members are invited to attend and may receive further information about this event by contacting Ron Dobson, Rideau District High School, R.R. 2, Elgin, Ontario K0G 1E0.

Society is cautiously optimistic

The Haliburton County Historical Society is cautiously optimistic about the future of the Kanawa International Museum in Haliburton County.

On Friday, Frank Wallace, President of the Society, released a statement commenting on the decision to locate the museum's collection in Port Hope and the Village of Haliburton.

The statement reads: "The Board of the Haliburton County Historical Society has reacted to the recent press release of the Kanawa International Museum and the information meeting on January 10 attended by Bob Dunn of the Kanawa International Museum with cautious optimism.

"The society feels that the regional concept, as opposed to the single location previously sought, could be beneficial to both Haliburton and Port Hope.

"The Haliburton Canoe Museum could be a focal point for educational canoe related activities, regattas and crafts and be an important area tourist attraction.

"For this to happen, the society looks forward to receiving from Kanawa firm commitments that: (A) funds to develop and sustain the Haliburton County concept will be forthcoming and that, (B) an appropriate and historically meaningful segment of the collection will be housed here."

Wallace told The Times that the Historical Society is currently in touch with many organizations who are interested in the museum. These include the Chamber of Commerce, tourism ministries, municipal councils, corporations and private businesses.

Wallace said that the society will be striving for "quality and theme" adding, "We are concentrating on themes which are more relevant to this area."

He said that although there may be examples of watercraft and canoes from other areas such as the west coast of Canada, most of the collection will relate to the north eastern region of North America and will include some canoes used by the fur traders and Indians native to this region.

Wallace said that the museum will be active in supporting canoe related activities including family oriented excursions between resorts and long distance races.

The president emphasised that the society represents the interests of all regions in Haliburton County and that although the museum will be built in the village of Haliburton, it will be a county museum and that the activities planned by the society will take place throughout the county.

On Tuesday, January 15,

Wallace contacted The Times to comment on an interview with Professor Kirk Wipper, founder of the Kanawa Museum and Brad Chappel that was aired on CHEX television on Monday evening.

Wallace said that due to the editing of the hour and a half long interview, "viewers were led to believe that the entire collection would be moved to Port Hope." The interview gave a false impression of the facts Wallace said, adding, "The Haliburton County concept is not dead."

6 receive agricultural awards

Six residents of Haliburton County were honoured for their contributions to agriculture at the annual meeting of the Haliburton County Farmers Association. The meeting was held January 8 at the Minden municipal office.

Victoria-Haliburton MPP, John Eakins was in attendance to present the recipients with the scrolls on behalf of the provincial minister of agriculture.

Eakins noted that the recipients of the scrolls were symbols of the many individuals in the county who had contributed to agriculture in the area. He congratulated them for their efforts and urged them to continue.

Among those to receive awards were Muriel Welch who accept the scroll on behalf of her late husband, Ray Welch; Randy and Maureen Warburton 1984 president and secretary of the Farmers Association; Wayne Cox president of the Minden Agricultural Society; Maurice Bradley, who has been instrumental in the formation of an agricultural society serving the eastern half of the county; Bud and Paula Kirchner, who have won numerous awards for their dairy farm near West Guilford; Ernest Hills for his interest in the Farmers Association, the goat society and the future of agriculture in the area and Sharron Greer, the president of the goat society.

Before the meeting ended, the associated elected a new executive for the coming year. Randy Warburton was returned as president of the group. Ernest Hills will serve as vice president and Maureen Warburton was elected secretary-treasurer. The directors include: large animals, cattle - Ingram Wessell; large animals, horses - Larry Hughes; small animals - Godfrey Tyler; soil and field crops - Casey Cox; market gardens and small fruits - Kathy Short; fair liason - Dwain Wruth; 4-H - Tim Casey; maple syrup and forest management - Keith Hughes.

Stop request on hold

The Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden has been asked to install a stop sign on the Bobcaygeon Road at the south end of the Gull River bridge.

The request was submitted to council at the regular meeting on Thursday by Minden businessman Larry Cummins expressing his concern over the unsafe traffic pattern at the intersection of the Bobcaygeon Road and South Water Street.

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas noted that the fingerboards and branches on a tree at the intersection block the view of drivers turning on to the main street from South Water Street.

Pergolas said that he was concerned that if traffic was stopped on the bridge, traffic would be backed up on North Water Street. Reeve Lyle McKnight said that it was not the fingerboards or tree branches that blocked the view of the drivers, it was the railings on the bridge.

"If you stop at the right place you can see through the railings. If you don't, you can't see cars coming across the bridge," he said. Bylaw enforcement officer Dick Schell, told council that there have been no reports of accidents at that intersection.

Schell pointed out that a stop sign was in place at the end of the bridge some years ago, but was removed. He added that there are concerns that since the bridge surface freezes sooner than the road surface, drivers attempting to stop might slide into the intersection.

Councillor Gary Kenney

noted that there is a flashing amber light at the intersection warning southbound drivers to proceed with caution. He added that council might consider placing a mirror at the intersection similar to ones located at tunnel exits.

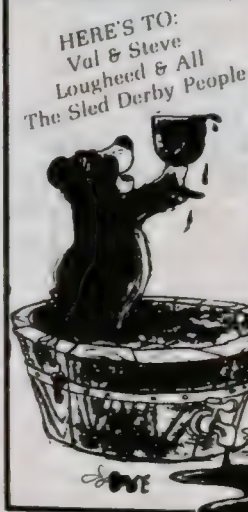

Reeve McKnight asked members of council to inspect the intersection and report back to council at the next regular meeting.

Stanhope sets committees

One of the first orders of business of the Township of Stanhope Council at the first monthly meeting of the New Year was to appoint members to the various municipal boards and committees. With few exceptions the membership remains unchanged from 1984. Except for the Property Standards Committee members will serve until December 31, 1985 or until other members are appointed. The following are the committees and their members for the coming year:

Board of Management: Elinor Harrison, Bill

Cowan, and council representative Elvin Johnson.

Stanhope Airport Committee: Louise Watson, Derek Rolfe, Gunter Wolm, Stan Moore, Ron Bacon, Pamela Rolfe, Paul Rolfe, Roger Woods and council representative Dale MacDonald.

Roads Committee. This committee is made up of all members of council, the Road Superintendent Harold Barjarow and Clerk-Treasurer Gerald Bain.

Ontario Home Renewal Committee: Jim Harrison, Bylaw Enforcement Officer Jim Moore and council representatives Dale MacDonald and Ann Barker.

Committee of Adjustment: Jim Harrison, Jim Moore, Bob Jennings and Neil Griffin.

Fire Wardens: Gord Martin, John Muse, Bob Jennings, Jim Moore, Dale MacDonald and Chief Fire Warden Don Barker.

Fire Permit Issuers: Jim Moore, Bob Baker, Fred Chapple and Andy Broerasma.

Recreation, Parks and Community Centres Committee: John Barclay, Penny Gough, Anna Barry, David Stirrett, Mary Lawr, Dorothy Finch, Kurt Leuhman, Vern Boles, Joe Hughes, and council representatives Ann Barker and Dale MacDonald.

Correspondence Committee: This committee is comprised of the fire chief Bob Nangle, the deputy fire chiefs and captains and council representatives Elgin Stouffer and Elvin Johnson.

Stanhope Non-Profit Housing Committee: Jim Harrison and Gerald Bain are the representatives of Stanhope Township on this committee which is comprised of representatives from the townships of Stanhope, Lutterworth and the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden.

Library Board: Norm Wallace, Marylene Welch, Isabel Gibbs, Claire Brown, Brenda McKinley and council representative Elvin Johnson.

Property Standards Committee: Jim Harrison appointed to a three year term joins Bob Jennings and Neil Griffin.

At the conclusion of the council meeting on Wednesday, Reeve Harry Davis read a special resolution appointing Councillor Ann Barker to the head of the Stanhope Landfill and Sanitation Department effective with the reading of the resolution.

Councillor Barker said that she was more than willing to take over the duties of this single member standing committee from councillor Dale MacDonald. She added that the appointment was in keeping with the spirit of Affirmative Action and Equal opportunity for Women programs.

The appointment prompted some good natured ribbing from other members of Council and several members of the Recreation Committee who were present. A comment was made that all garbage that was brought to the Maple Lake Dump would have to be scrubbed first and that the name of the road leading to the dump should be changed to The Barker Dump Road.

Heroin use by terminally ill patients attention. Debate has centred on the most efficient drugs to be used as analgesics in cases of terminal illness.

In particular, controversy over the illegality of heroin as an analgesic, in both Canada and the United States, has mounted. A growing number of doctors, members of the public and politicians are speaking out in favour of heroin for victims of terminal cancer. In Canada, an Act was recently passed which allows the medical use of heroin. Advocates claim that heroin is superior to analgesics currently used in North America in that it produces a greater sense of euphoria for individuals suffering intractable pain, without side effects causing nausea. Their enthusiasm is not unchallenged.

The debate in Canada was publically initiated in March, 1981, when medical journalist Dr. Kenneth Walker, writing under the pseudonym W. Gifford-Jones M.D., in his syndicated column "The Doctor Game", described the painful death of his terminally ill father. He argued that his father's death would have been easier if his doctors had been permitted to administer heroin. The response from readers was overwhelming as individuals wrote to either echo support for or to dissent against the use of heroin.

On July 16, 1982 Dr. Walker met with the Honourable Monique Begin, the then Minister of Health and Welfare Canada, in Ottawa, and presented her with 15,000 letters supporting the use of heroin for terminally ill patients. In response to the petition the Expert Advisory Committee on the Management of Severe Pain was established to consider the matter.

Studies have shown that heroin is more soluble than morphine (an analgesic used for intractable pain in Canada). This increased solubility allows more heroin to be dissolved in a given solution than morphine. The medical virtue of heroin's solubility has been recognized in Britain by its use in a heroin-cocaine solution which can be taken orally, called a Brompton Cocktail. The cocktail is a pleasant tasting preparation which can be self administered regularly in sufficient doses and at frequent intervals to produce and maintain effective analgesia. Although the cocktail can also be prepared, with morphine and cocaine, the greater solubility of heroin, coupled with two and one half times greater potency than morphine, is thought by some to be an important combination. Supporters also claim that heroin is superior to morphine when injections are required. When patients are unable to take oral medication, or have no veins left for needles because of chemotherapy or the prolonged use of intravenous medication, an intramuscular injection is often the only way for patients to receive painkillers. The required dosage of heroin compared to morphine is smaller and less frequent for both oral administrations and injections when a patient is unable to receive the analgesic orally.

It is also argued that patients react differently to drugs, making it sensible for doctors to have the maximum number of drugs available to treat cancer pain. No single drug or procedure is always or almost always best for every patient. With this in mind it is claimed that all safe drugs should be available to physicians, to be drawn upon when needed. Another argument put forth for the medical use of heroin is that the drug is used in other countries, including Britain. In Britain, for example, physicians use heroin for conditions other than malignancy. Female patients who have difficult labours are frequently given this drug. It is also routinely and satisfactorily administered to heart attack victims and severely burned children.

Many argue that addiction concerns with regard to the use of heroin are misplaced when dealing with terminally ill patients. The major concern should be the relief of pain for a dying patient. It is also asserted that addiction concerns for terminal patients are reflective of a double standard inasmuch as tranquilizers are available even though there are addiction possibilities associated with their use.

Next week I will deal with arguments against the use of heroin.

Dear readers: Our lovely Christmas decorations all came down and our Home looks rather bare. Many residents have the flu, and don't seem to care. I thought I might miss it but I have it too. So all around this place things are rather blue. However, the days are lengthening out and hope we soon feel better, and I will be able to write this letter.

We are getting more snow so winter is here to stay. Good weather for the skidoos and skiers anyway.

So I had to miss the chapel service Sunday night - something I don't like to miss. Had a bad cold, feeling sorry for myself. They said Rev. Burgess wasn't feeling too well himself.

We have Doris back with us again after a week's holiday. She said she was sick all the time she was away.

Helen Lee was the only cleaning lady today, to keep everything slick because Brenda Tilley was off sick.

Linda showed us two movies Monday night. Grey Ghost of Saskatchewan, and Rail Rider, which was quite a sight.

Tuesday morning Rev. Wicks of Minden Gospel Church, came this January day. Why he didn't come before I didn't hear him say.

Doris Robertson took over with a little persuasion. Our girls are always ready to fill in for any occasion.

Congratulations we would like to say to Annie Cox. Sorry she had to go to hospital on her 92nd birthday.

Tuesday afternoon we played the quiz game, between teams B and A - just one point between us today.

Wednesday afternoon our ladies working in the craft room. The ones that were able to work, knitting socks and scarves, making quilt blocks too, the job they never shirk.

Wednesday night Earl Cooper came, brought his wife. Kathy couldn't come. Earl playing the fiddle, Eleanor the piano. Gordon Ruttle on the organ. They played fine music and really had things humming. Then they played some Scottish songs which was enjoyed by everyone. We thank you for coming on this cold winter's night and look for the next time you will call.

Down at fun and fitness we play a different game each day. Teddy Carr won the game we played yesterday. Edith Welch won the game we played today.

The ladies of West Guildford's St. Andrew's Church brought and served a delicious lunch this Thursday afternoon. To pay them back in some small way, we played a few lively tunes. So nice a different group comes in each week, no matter what the weather, then we have this social time together.

The ladies who live next door to me, in room 102. A very active couple, I am telling you. Lily Hogg and Edna Cowan, if they're not away, they have visitors almost every day.

Thursday night the only bingo caller's name I got was Don Nye. We thank you

Don for dropping by.

Friday afternoon we had no sing song, so Linda led us in a different chorus. We had discussions on love, marriage and divorce.

Friday night, Payne, Deacon, and Burch came with a violin player, George Smith. They are now a male quartette. They entertained us for an hour or more. It was the very best yet.

You are still young if the morning after the night before still makes the night before worth the morning after.

Guild achievers

In this column, we send our congratulations to several of our Guild members for their recent achievements.

Marta Vanderwal, an avid silk painter, attended several out of town Christmas Craft sales. She found that she enjoyed the crowds and benefited financially from the further selling exposure.

Kevin Dunlop, our Marquetry craftsmen, also attended Christmas Craft sales this year. He was very successful at the Ottawa sale which draws a very large crowd.

Just recently, three of our local painters, Mary Hastings, Chuck O'Neil and Gwen Kushner entered their work in the East Central Artists Association competition. The work of all three artists was accepted and is currently hanging in an exhibition at the Whetung Art Gallery at Curve Lake and Art Space in Peterborough.

In December, Thelma Dair, a Guild potter, won first prize in the Agnes Jamieson Gallery competition for her hand built container.

As you can see, our Guild members are active and we are proud of their successes. Congratulations everyone!

Don't forget about "Hats and More Hats", a free to members workshop on January 30. This workshop will include instruction in the basic elements of hat making. Non-members are welcome. Cost for the day is $15.00 and includes a one year membership. Call Chris at 457-1690 to register.

The Gallery will re-open on Friday, February 15 with "Haliburton Past and the Winter Carnival Sale".

Remember to watch our coming events column for information concerning our Fashion Weekend.

Cold air masks available

by Donna Bailey

Cold air masks are available from our office free of charge. They are supplied to us through the Canadian Lung Association and we distribute them to anyone who has need of them regardless of age.

We now have in stock both adult and children sizes. They are designed to fit over your nose and mouth while you are going from a warm place, such as your home, to your car or while you walk a short distance. They are especially helpful to people who have chest or heart problems as they prevent very cold air from entering your lungs. They should be worn no longer than 10 to 15 minutes as they are not oxygen masks. (We thank Muriel Osborne for assembling our new supply.)

The "Vials for Life" provide lifesaving information in the case of an emergency. They are for individuals of all ages who have medical problems or who take medicine regularly or have allergies. They provide vital medical information for ambulance drivers, police, doctors.

Medical information is to be printed on a pre-typed sheet and put into a "vial" which in turn is to be placed in your refrigerator and in the glove compartment of your car. A "Vial of Life" sticker is to be in turn put on your refrigerator and car glove compartment to alert medical people that vital information is available there. Please keep these up to date.

They are given to us through the Red Cross Society and they are available free of charge through our Home Support Office. (Thank you, Alberta Maitland, for assembling the vials).

Please drop into our office and pick up either of these. We are located in the Drag River Municipal Office opposite Emmerson Lumber. We are open Monday to Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Our phone number is 457-2941. Have a nice day!

Had a visit from our old friend Yvonne Guida and she tells us she had a lovely letter from Pierre Berton. He is presently gathering information on Canadians who served in World Wars and Yvonne had sent some information on her late father, Walter Noice, who had served in W.W.I. Mr. Berton may use the information sent, so we should keep an eye out for the next book from this prolific writer. Yvonne also sent us the following poem based on the recent TV series and book, The Thorn Birds by Colleen McCullough.

The Legend of the Thorn Bird

There is a legend
Australians love to tell
For it is their own legend
And they know it very well.
Its story is the Thorn bird
So different from the rest
It seeks and finds a thorn tree
And impales it in its breast.
It only sings one lovely song
The sweetest song on earth
And this has been its destiny
From the moment that it leaves its nest
From its first day on earth.
And God in all his glory smiles
At that one superlative song
No nightingale or lark
Can reach
The heights
Of this lovely gentle bird.
The whole world stops to listen
Only its song can be heard
It gladly gives its painful life
For the ecstasy it bring -
And in its dying brings a sweetness
Worth more than all the gold and jewels
That are possessed by Kings.
There is a lesson to be learned
In this birds dying song,
For it has gladly paid the price
That comes with all its pain
Perhaps when it gives its soul to God
It yet may sing again.
For all of us
There is a chance to earn, perhaps
One fleeting, shining hour, or day -
That is granted from above,
And if we can but bear the thorns
We may know the Joy of Love.

Yvonne

What a splendid weekend downtown watching the sled dog races. Not only was it exciting seeing the actual races but being able to see the dogs close up and meet some of the owners was a pleasure. There was such enthusiasm from everyone downtown, and everyone who had anything to do with the events is to be congratulated, especially Val and Steve Loughheed who first had the idea. Well done everyone, we're looking forward to next year!

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Some have hidden words or sayings, some do not. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

Q: Do you know why the corn doesn't like the farmer?

A: He pulls its ears.

Q: What ten letter word starts with gas? Automobile.

Q: What is dark but is made by light?

A: A shadow.

Q: What is the best way to catch a squirrel?

A: Sit in the tree and act like a nut.

Q: If you take away all my letters I'm still the same, what am I?

A: A mail man.

Q: How do you make soup gold?

A: Put in 14 carrots.

Q: If two is company and three's a crowd, what are four and five?

A: Nine.

Q: What is a three letter word for mousetrap?

A: Cat.

Q: What has twenty heads but can't think?

A: A book of matches.

Q: Who belongs to the monster's PTA?

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Lyman Cox who passed away January 20, 1983.

Though his smile is gone forever,
And his hand we cannot touch,
Still we have so many memories,
Of the one we loved so much.

His memory is our keepsake
With which we'll never part;
God has him in His keeping,
We have him in our heart.

Sadly missed by his wife Mary, children and grandchildren.

Johnston: In loving memory of our two brothers Alvin

IN MEMORIAM

Carl who died accidentally January 16, 1964, Myles Ellwood who was killed October 11, 1968.

A part of our hearts they took with them
But their love he left us to keep
So we'll never really be parted
The bond between us is too deep.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by brothers and sisters Mervyn, Glen, Shirley, Judy, Carolyne and Lynda.

Johnston: In loving memory of our two sons Alvin Carl who died accidentally January 16, 1964 and Myles Ellwood who was killed October 11, 1968.

I'll lend you for a little time
Two children of mine, he said.
For you to love them while they live,
And mourn for when they're dead.
It may be six or seven years
Or twenty-two or three.
But will you till I call them back,
Take care of them for me.
They'll bring their charms to gladden you;
And should their stay be brief,

IN MEMORIAM

You'll have their loving memories
As solace for your grief.

I cannot promise they will stay
Since all from earth return.

But there are lessons taught down there,
I want these children to learn.
I've looked the wide world over,

In search of teachers true.
And from the throngs that crowd life's lanes,
I have selected you.

Now will you give them all your love,
Nor think the labour vain.
Nor hate me when I come to call,

And take them back again.
For all the joy thy children will bring
The risk of grief we'll run.
We'll shelter them with tenderness,
We'll love them while we may.

And for the happiness we have known
Forever grateful stay.
But should the angels call them
Much sooner than we've planned.
We'll brave the bitter grief that comes
And try to understand.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by Mom and Dad
